THE LANTERN 1984

Lambuth College

Jackson, Tennessee

Volume 56

Janet McClure, Editor

A combination of study and play — that's college life and that's Lambuth. Generations of students have whiled away the hours on the campus quadrangle, their youthful enthusiasm heightened by the excitement of the Lambuth experience. As today's students pass daily by the flagpole and by the cornerstone of MFI in the center of the campus, they join the ranks of countless others who too shared this enthusiasm. The Lambuth experience bears a closer look.

Yet a Closer Look...

Becky Carter gets "Off The Wall" with Michael Jackson.

Into Dorm Life

Randy McCallon and Jeff Hall move in.

But where will they put all of it?

In-coming freshmen enjoy a break before they start their busy schedules.

Moving into the dorm is a freshman's dream and an upperclassman's nightmare! As the surrounding faces become more and more familiar, dorm residents develop a special brand of camaraderie which comes only through the sharing of daily trials and joys of dorm life. Before long, Harris, Spangler, Sprague and West Hall become home-away-from-home for the majority of Lambuth's students.

During orientation, incoming freshmen enjoy a catered cafeteria meal at Dr. Gilmer's house.

... Into Initial Events

"Drop Organic Chemistry to add Jogging?" ... "You're taking how many English classes this semester?" These are typical student responses at the beginning of a new school year following the hectic pace of orientation and registration. But, after a week or two of drop-add slips, financial aid lines, and prolonged searches for classrooms, students finally settle into the familiar routine of college life.

...Into the College Union

Housing everything from the game room to classes, the College Union is the busiest building on campus. Even though the Eagle's Nest is a perfect place for students and faculty members to relax and meet with friends, the corridors, the bookstore, and the cafeteria are also choice spots.

Melinda Keller, Patti German, and Cynthia Utley socialize in the halls between classes.

Injun Joe (Class of 1812) returns to help the ID Department with the Showhouse.

Southern gentlemen Gene and Terry escort Jeannie and Celeste back to the Old South.

...At Informal Activities

During the four years at Lambuth, there is time for it all! Although Lambuth College is, of course, academically oriented, students take frequent breaks from studying for special activities and informal good times. Besides providing students with a chance for relaxation and fun, the many activities and social gatherings in which Lambuth students participate assist them in becoming well-rounded, whole individuals.

Those were the days!

The BSU choir makes its All-Sing debut.

Mrs. Bridges congratulates the tearful new Miss Lambuth, her daughter Rayla.

Where did the ball go, Jim?

...At Formal Activities

In the unique atmosphere of Lambuth, all school activities draw the college together. Events such as Lambuth sports or Opening Convocation unite the college in the spirit of belonging to the Lambuth Community. The excitement of Lambuth people feeling good about Lambuth transforms such events into special times.

Raising the flag to signal a new academic year, Michelle Fisher and Michelle Hughes participate in Opening Convocation.

Lee Tharp and Richard Peebles patiently wait for Godot!

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." Phil. 4:8

A closer look into administration and faculty...

Lambuth Honors Board Members at Annual Trustees Day

On October 4, 1983, Lambuth once again honored its Board of Trustees with the second annual Trustee Day on campus. During the day the board members became more familiar with a variety of college programs and facilities. The trustees attended seminars conducted by members of the faculty and administration on topics such as Computer Literacy, the Lambuth Honors Program, Medical and Professional Ethics and Leading Economic Indicators. The seminars were followed by a reception and dinner in the Colonial Room with entertainment provided by Dr. Don Huneycutt, faculty representative on the board, and Marcia Mittelstadt. Dr. Robert Peck, Vice President of the Council of Independent Colleges concluded the evening with an address on the small private liberal arts college and its impact on society. The address was well received by board members and guests.

Dr. Don Huneycutt, newly elected faculty representative to the Board of Trustees, discusses a point with Dr. Paul W. Clayton, member of the board and President of the Alumni Association.

The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on campus in Wisdom Parlor October 25, 1983.

Dr. Harry W. Gilmer, President, Views Lambuth's Future With Optimism

*Upon this age, that never speaks its mind,
This furtive age, this age endowed with power
To wake the moon with footsteps, fit an oar
Into the rowlocks of the wind, and find
What swims before his prow; what swirls behind —
Upon this gifted age, in its dark hour,
Rains from the sky a meteoric shower
Of facts . . . they lie unquestioned, uncombined.
Wisdom enough to teach us of our ill
Is daily spun; but there exists no loom
To weave it into fabric; undefiled
Proceeds pure Science, and has her say; but still
Upon this world from the collective womb
Is spewed all day the red triumphant child.*

— Edna St. Vincent Millay

In his fourth year as President of Lambuth College, Dr. Harry S. Gilmer characterized the year as a time of settling-in for the college. Many changes have occurred during his term as President and many other changes have yet to come to fruition. Dr. Gilmer feels that these changes are much like the "meteoric shower of facts" and that all of us are confronted by these changes, facts, and additions every day. Yet, he believes that Lambuth is the loom for us to weave these changes and facts into fabric.

Dr. Gilmer looks forward to the completion of the many changes and additions that are currently being developed.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo Assumes New Role as Dean

Dr. Charles W. Mayo became the new Vice-President and Academic Dean of Lambuth College on July 17, 1983.

A familiar face on Lambuth's campus, Dr. Mayo has been a member of the faculty since 1968. As a professor and chairman of the English Department, he contributed much to the college in the years prior to his appointment as Vice-President and Academic Dean. He feels that his perception of the college has not changed since that appointment.

Dr. Mayo believes that the only way to continue to make Lambuth an academic institution is daily attention to responsible teaching and advising from the faculty, and daily application of the students with their minds and attitudes. Since Lambuth's purpose of providing a sound education in a Christian environment advocates inclusion rather than exclusion, he affirms that the personal attention of faculty to all students regardless of their academic background is a strong asset in maintaining Lambuth's academic standards. Some of Dr. Mayo's future plans to ensure this academic excellence include a college-wide attendance policy and more emphasis on faculty time dedicated to student learning.

Dr. Mayo received his Bachelor's Degree in English from Bethel College, two Master's of Arts degrees, in counseling and education from Murray State University and in English from George Peabody College with a minor in higher education. He and his wife, Ann, have three children: Clay, Ben, and Ginny.

Admissions Office

The admissions office underwent many changes in the '83-'84 school year. One of the most important changes was the appointment of Mr. Bob McLendon as the Vice President in charge of recruitment and Dean of Admissions. Under his leadership, the admissions office was extremely active this year. In addition to recruiting in the Tennessee-Kentucky area, the admissions counselors traveled to other states such as Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, New York, and Texas. Here on campus, they sponsored the "Preview '84" programs and High School Day in order to encourage prospective students to visit the school.

The admissions office has other new faces as well as a new leader. Robert Parker and Mary Clayton joined the staff last summer as admissions counselors. One other change in the admissions office was the move to include the financial aid office in the admissions department.

Major emphasis was placed on publicity, with the new departmental brochures and posters designed to attract the attention of today's high school student. Mr. McLendon hopes that the new publications along with the extended travel will have beneficial results in enrollment in the future.

The admissions staff escorts prospective students on campus during High School Day.

Members of the admissions staff include Peggy Frost, Scott Likins, Mary Clayton, Virginia Burnette, and Bob McLendon.

Lambuth's new Vice President for Enrollment Planning and Dean of Admissions is Robert McLendon.

Luther L. Gobbel Library

Mrs. Judith Hazlewood, head librarian, evaluates the efforts of her kid-die lit students.

The Luther L. Gobbel Library continued its standard of excellence this year in several areas. In order to keep up with the rising demands of the students, the library increased the number of volumes to 129,000. This number includes the addition of several large sets of resource encyclopedias, funded through gifts to the library. The library staff also completed the transition from the Dewey Decimal system of cataloging to the Library of Congress method, a task which required much time and effort.

The library staff was pleased with the decision of the Board of Trustees to make full-time librarians eligible for tenure. Plans for the future involve the extension of the already existing computer services in the library to include a bibliographic search. This extension will make research simpler and will better enable the library to continue meeting the needs of the Lambuth community.

Maintenance and Cafeteria Staffs Provide Effective Service to College

CAFETERIA STAFF

Lambuth students noted marked changes in the cafeteria upon their return last fall. There was not only a totally new decor but also a change to the Valley Food Service with the arrival of Mr. Bob Dorsey as director of food services. Throughout the year the staff offered the students a variety in menus and special services ranging from the baked potato bar to the exam dinner dance.

The Lambuth Maintenance Staff continued its effective service to the College this year. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Frank Murchison, the workers kept the grounds and buildings of the campus clean, beautiful, and in good working order.

Division of Humanities

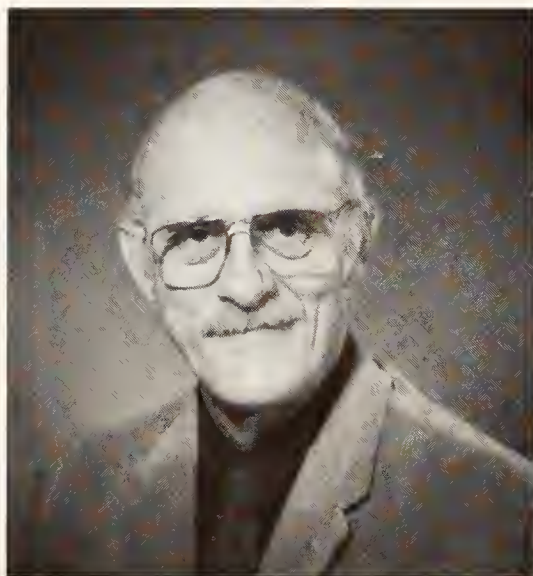

The HUMANITIES DIVISION made several important contributions to Lambuth this year. The most significant of these was its contribution of an academic dean to the college from this division. Upon the appointment of former English department chairman Dr. Charles Mayo to vice President and Academic Dean, Dr. Bob Hazlewood has very capably filled the position of chairman of the English department. In addition, Dr. Annie Lou Smith has returned to teach two English composition classes.

Another exciting development is the new major in broadcast communications which will be offered in the fall of 1984. In order to prepare for this major, Mr. Dalton Eddleman was away on sabbatical; and Mr. Rodney Higgenbotham, visiting assistant professor of speech, came to fill Mr. Eddleman's vacancy. Other changes within the department included the appointment of Marcia Mittelstadt as Director of Vocal and Choral Activities.

The Division suffered some loss this year. Joanna Ross resigned after 22 years at Lambuth to return to studio artwork in Nashville. Mr. Larry Ray was appointed chairman of the art department in her place. Because of Mr. Ray's year-long sabbatical, the college hired four part-time faculty members to cover the teaching loads: Susan Foote, DeNé Tyson, Talle Johnson, and Lendon Noe.

Division of Natural Sciences

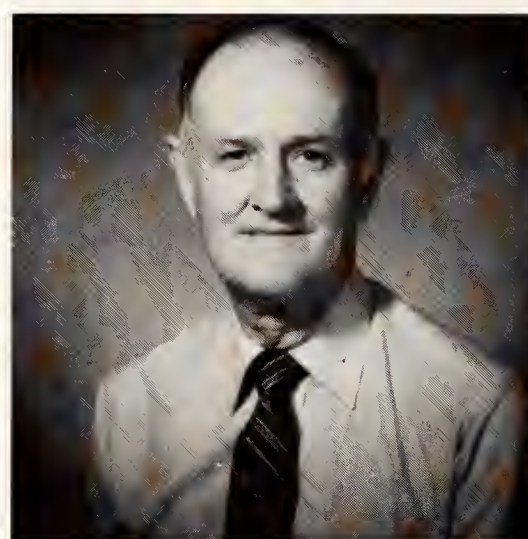

The NATURAL SCIENCE DIVISION welcomed two new faculty members this year: Dr. David Hawkes, associate professor of chemistry, and Ms. Peggy Birmingham, assistant professor of health and physical education, who also coaches the women's basketball team. An important addition to the division was the new color terminal and printer in the computer center. This terminal was used primarily for teaching the color graphics class. The faculty members in the division were busy attending meetings and conferences around the area. Also, they welcomed recruiters from graduate schools who are interested in the spring graduates. Plans were made for inviting other off-campus guests from the U.S. Department of Energy to speak on such topics as automation and nuclear wastes.

Division of Social Sciences

Interesting and challenging programs, conferences, and symposiums have been very much a part of the SOCIAL SCIENCE DIVISION. The Education Department initiated Lambuth's First Annual Reading Conference which attracted participants from the tri-state area and speakers from the new England, Mid-Atlantic, and Southern states. An excellent rating was given this department through intensive evaluation by the Tennessee State Department of Education.

The 8th Annual West Tennessee Undergraduate Sociological Symposium was held again on the Lambuth Campus. Students from Lambuth and other regional colleges presented a variety of papers.

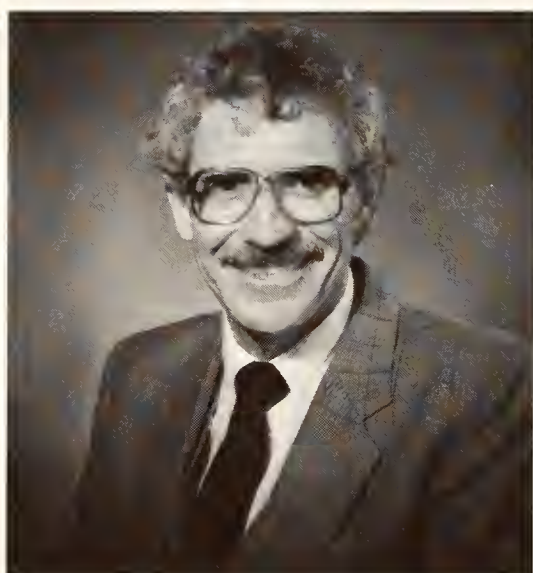

The Business and Economics Department continues to offer quality professional education with an eye toward the increasing high technology needs. This department provides a full scale evening degree program.

March 1 brought members of the Tennessee Home Economics Association to the Lambuth campus for a Telecommunications Conference with networks throughout the state featuring speakers from the American Home Economics Association in Washington, D.C.

The Division welcomed three new professors to its staff: Dr. Barney Raffield, associate professor of business administration and economics, Dr. Dwight Tays, assistant professor of political science, and Dr. Bridgie Ford, assistant professor of education.

Team Play Leads Baseball Team to 20-16 Record

Jim Henderson tags a pitch for a hit.

With nine lettermen returning, the 1983 baseball team finished its season with a record of 20 wins and 16 losses. Coach Russell credits the winning season to "excellent team play. We played together so well that it made a big difference." Players Stan Chandler and Jeff Fleming led the team in batting with a .356 average. Bruce Hayes was the Eagles' most productive pitcher with a 3-2 win-loss record. Also, Scott Patterson, who was named to the 1983 VSAC All-Conference team, composed the Lambuth outfield along with Chandler and Fleming which was said to be the best defensive outfield in the conference. The infield was also strong, and with most of the players returning for the 1984 season, Coach Russell expected to have improved defensive fielding and above-average pitching in 1984. Furthermore, the addition of sophomore third-baseman Tommy Shelton and the conversion of Jim Henderson to first base and Steve Shelton to catcher strengthened the 1984 team.

First Row: Mr. Jack L. Russell, Coach, Syd Freeman, Tony Mosier, Steve Shelton, Jeff Fleming, Kabo Raines, Ken Geyer, Joey Lewis, Scott Petterson, Jim Henderson, Tim Barlow, and Duncan DeMonbreun. Competition Challenges Women's Tennis Team

The women's tennis team showed exceptional endurance and ability during its 1983 season. Led by top-seeded player Luanne Staub and Academic VSAC All-Conference player Tricia Smith, the team faced such tough opponents as Freed-Hardeman College, Union University, and David Lipscomb College. With the addition of two new players, the 1984 team anticipated an exciting and successful season.

Men's Tennis Team Posts Moderate Record

The 1982-83 Lambuth men's tennis team posted a moderate record of two wins and sixteen losses. Throughout the year, the men's tennis team, led by top seeded player David Rudd, lost frustrating matches, while only beating Southwestern at Memphis twice. According to coach Roscoe Williams, through most of the 1982-83 season the team was plagued by inconsistent play from most of its members. Nevertheless, three individuals from the tennis team were able to participate in the Volunteer State Athletic Conference Tournament in April. Team members who did play in the VSAC Tournament included David Rudd, Ricky Vaughn and Greg Tanner, all of whom played well, but were unable to participate past the second round of action.

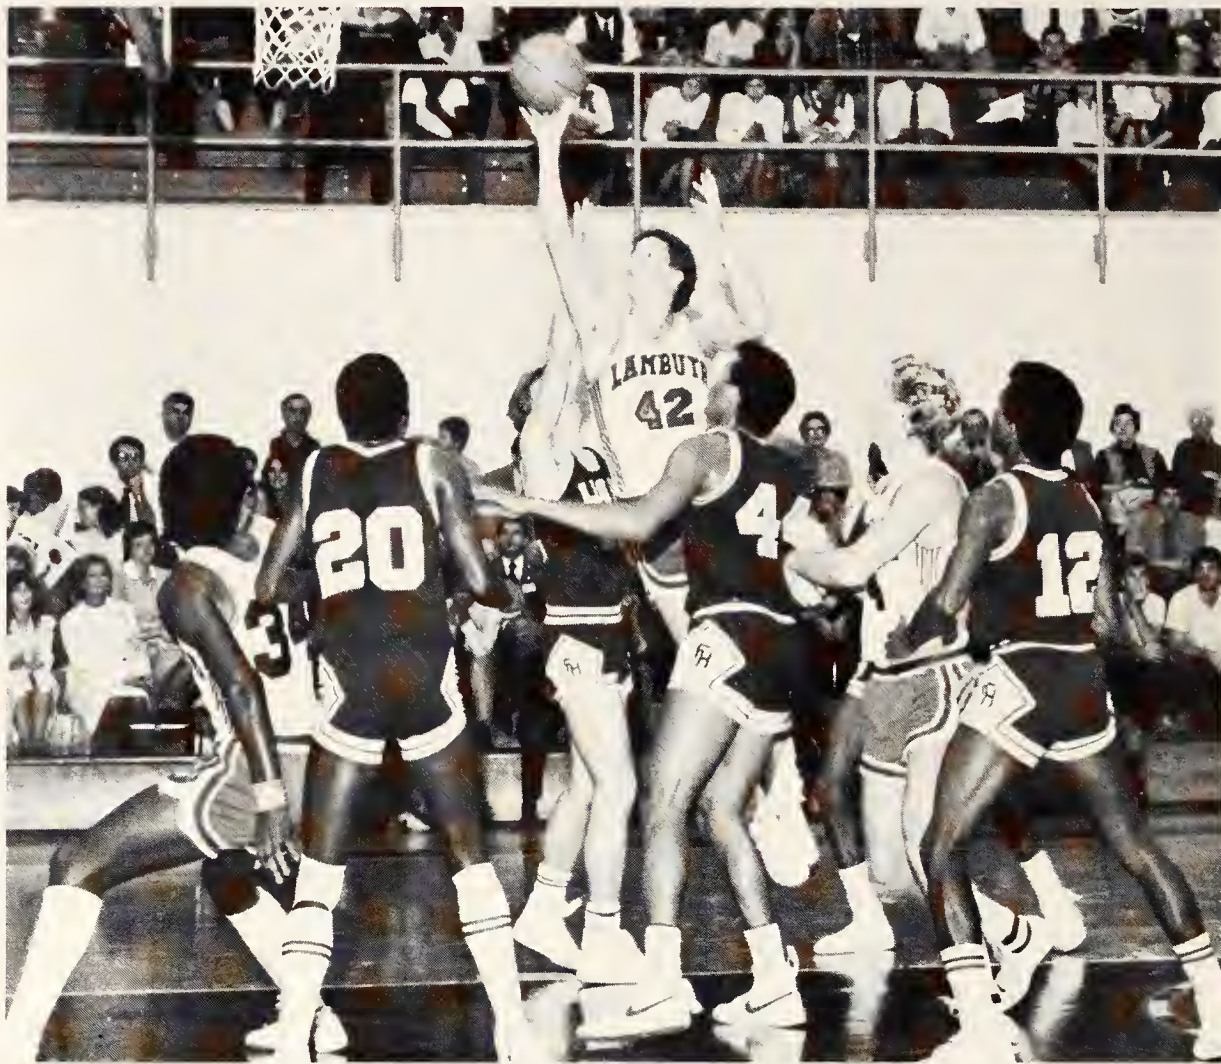

Determination drives Greg Tanner to return a difficult base line shot.

David Rudd concentrates on returning a decisive backhand to his opponent.

Lambuth Eagles Suffer From Team Losses

The season looked bright and hopeful for the 1983-84 Lambuth varsity basketball team, but injuries and team membership losses severely crippled its chances for a victorious year. With three returning seniors, seven returning lettermen, and four hopeful freshman standouts, Coach Bray felt that the team would rank high in the V.S.A.C. Conference standings. But such hopes were not to be realized. The 1983-84 Eagles were unable to muster a winning record even though a promising group of young men started practice in October.

New Basketball Coach Sparks Victorious Season

Under the direction of Coach Peggy Birmingham, the 1983-84 Lambuth Eaglettes paved the way to a championship team. New conditioning programs such as weight training, running, and aerobics were introduced during the team's preseason training to "increase the team's ability, strength, and endurance during the season," according to Coach Birmingham. The Eaglettes hosted a grueling twenty-six game schedule, with its biggest win in a home game over the University of Tennessee at Martin, an N.C.A.A. Division I team. Concerning this victory Coach Birmingham replied, "It was a great win for us. Martin is in the toughest division in the country and nobody gave us a chance. It was great for us because we really played a flawless game."

With the leadership of team captain Connie McClain and player Vicki Brown, the Eaglettes ran an awesome "no star" offense, ranking them among one of the top V.S.A.C. teams in the conference in 1983-84. Coach Birmingham credited the whole team for, "outstanding all-round team play, the true force behind our success this season."

New coach Peggy Birmingham sparks the Eaglettes during a time out.

Sophomore Felicia Hogg goes up for two points even though she is surrounded by opposing Toppers.

Lambuth Cheerleaders Win Recognition

"We're going to the top and we can't be stopped!" That was the spirit of the Eagles' cheerleading squad this summer when members attended U.C.A. cheerleading camp at Memphis State University. The squad competed with numerous schools such as N.C.S. Wolfpack, Ole Miss, and Alabama. The Lambuth cheerleaders soared to the top to win three excellent and four superior ribbons for pyramids, cheers, and chants. Also received by the squad was the Spirit Award for outstanding spirit all week. While at camp new stunts and techniques were learned for the coming year.

With the help of Joe Cornelius, sponsor for the first semester and Mrs. Elaine Alexander, sponsor for second semester, the cheerleaders promoted that good ole Lambuth spirit throughout the year.

Intramurals Offer Students Athletic Outlets

The intramural program offers Lambuth students a wide and diverse variety of athletic outlets through competition between independent and Greek athletic teams. Team sports for the 1983-1984 year included flagball, volleyball, basketball and softball for men and softball, volleyball, and basketball for women. In addition to team sports, the intramural program offered cross country and golf for men and tennis for women.

One of the favorite sports sponsored by the intramural program is the swim meet held in the spring. The swim meet includes all women and men teams from participating organizations, with the men's teams competing against the women's teams.

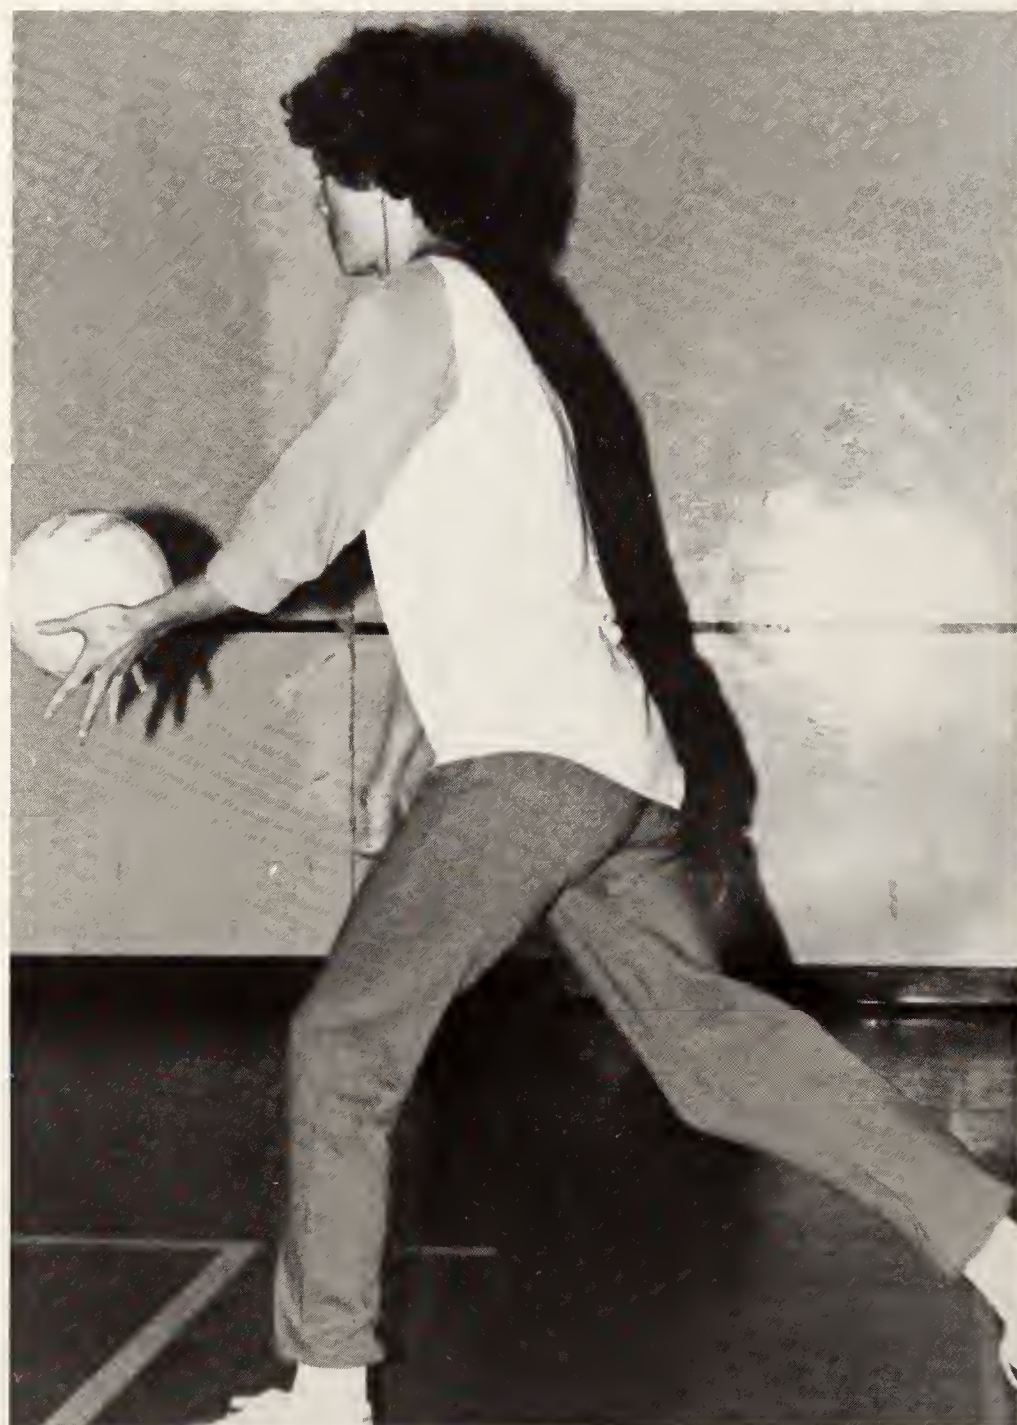

Truly, the intramural program offers students the opportunity to compete with other fraternities and sororities and independent groups. It also offers all groups the chance to come together on the playing field and develop a sense of teamwork and achievement.

This year the event became all-campus with one non-Greek group, the Black Student Union, participating.

Divisions for the competition were all male choirs, all female choirs, mixed choirs, and an over-all award for the best competitor.

The Emcee for the event was Mr. Dalton Eddleman, Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama. Special entertainment was by the newly organized faculty choir.

Featured on alternate half hours were Kaleidoscope, Lambuth's select vocal group under the direction of music instructor Marcia Mittelstadt, and the Lambuth Jazz Band, led by Dick Brown, music instructor. Musical Events Herald

Kaleidoscope heralds the Christmas season with traditional costumes.

The 1983 Christmas season was highlighted with a series of attractions sponsored by the Music Department. On December 6 the Concert Band and Concert Choir joined to present a Christmas concert under the direction of Richard Brown and Marcia Mittelstadt with arrangements of everything from nursery rhymes to Christmas tunes. Concluding the program was Robert Shaw's "The Many Moods of Christmas Suite Three," a joint medley of well-known Christmas songs performed by the Concert Band and Choir.

Also in December was the annual Madrigal Feaste with early Renaissance and baroque Christmas music performed by the sixteen-member Kaleidoscope. Complementing the performance was an authentic Elizabethan dinner. An elaborate sixteenth-century setting and traditional costumes added a touch of elegance to the evening's events.

The Christmas season came to a close with the annual Christmas Candlelight Service on December 11. The program featured the newly-formed Choral Society of about fifty voices. This traditional service was adapted from a service introduced at King's College in Cambridge, England in the 14th century and uses the old and new testaments and music to tell the story of the birth of Christ.

Designer's Showcase Transforms Epworth Hall Basement Into Magical Playground

Larry Ray, Professor of Interior Design, and his senior design students put their imaginations to work last spring and transformed the basement of Epworth Hall into a child's dreamworld. They fashioned nine children's rooms, or environments, each student being given a theme around which to design a special environment in each room. The showhouse demonstrated that little girls can have lunch with the Mad Hatter or spend the night in a Victorian dollhouse while their brothers float through the clouds in a hot air balloon or save the stagecoach from wild Indians without ever leaving their room, . . . ah environment.

Larry Ray and one of his design students put the finishing touches on the entrance to the world of magical playgrounds.

Theater of the Absurd Comes to Lambuth Theater

Lee Tharp and Richard Peeples are waiting for Godot.

Pozzo, played by Joey Tate, shows his style of sitting down.

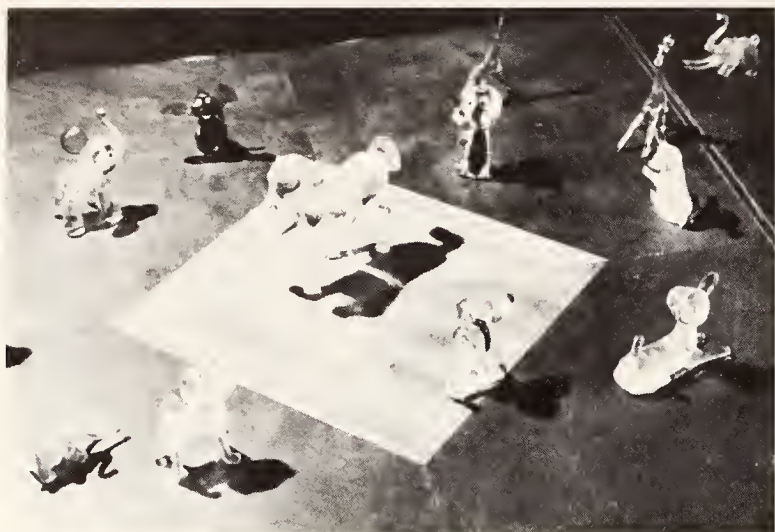

In this scene, Rayla is as stubborn as a mule.

Samuel Beckett's "Waiting for Godot," a presentation in the theater of the absurd, was Lambuth Theater's third production of the 1982-83 season.

Directed by Dalton Eddleman, Godot is a very unusual play which in style of presentation combines the enjoyable theatrics of ancient mime, vaudevillian antics, keystone kops' capers, and the Marx Brothers' vocal and visual monkeyshines. The tragicomedy in two acts is a dirge of hope deceived and deferred but never extinguished. It is filled with tenderness and a type of literary comic beauty and pain.

Gogo and Didi guide a blind Pozzo.

Laura's glass menagerie sets the tone for the opening act of "The Glass Menagerie."

"Glass Menagerie" Concludes '82-'83 Theater Season

Because of Tom Winfield's irresponsibility, Tom (Richard Peeples), Amanda Winfield (Jean Jones), and Jim O'Conner (Joey Tate) must dine by candlelight.

Lambuth Theater's final production for the 1982-83 school year proved to be a drama of tenderness, pathos, and beauty. Directed by Jesse Byrum, "The Glass Menagerie" by the late Tennessee Williams is one of the most famous dramas of the modern theater. This play, thought by many to be an autobiography, is set in a dingy St. Louis apartment where the tragic remains of Southern gentility live in poverty.

Laura Winfield (Michelle Hughes) is reluctant to blow out a candle that would erase her from Tom's mind.

After reprimanding his mother, Tom tries to console Amanda.

Dr. Michael Emerson (Russell Moody) and Dr. David Scott (Robert Barnes) discuss the issue to increase or decrease medication for Claire Harrison (Penni Pennington).

“Whose Life Is It Anyway?” Provokes Discussion

Lambuth Theater's '83-'84 winter production was Brian Clark's play “Whose Life Is It Anyway?” The plot of the play focuses on patient Claire Harrison (Penni Pennington), who was a successful sculptor before injuries sustained in an automobile accident left her paralyzed, clinging to life only by her life support system. In the play she fights the courts for her right to die. Struggling to save her life is Dr. Michael Emerson (Russell Moody). Margaret Hill, Claire's attorney (Carol Rinehart) defends her right to die.

A rather innovative feature of the Lambuth Theater marked this particular production. After the final performance of the play, members of a forum of five local professionals, including Dr. Russell McIntire, who served as moderator, expressed their views and answered questions from the audience on the right to die.

Unable to feed herself because of a crippling automobile accident, Claire Harrison (Penni Pennington) is assisted by her nurse (Rayla Bridges).

“Anything Goes” Opens Lambuth Theater’s Season

Cole Porter’s musical “Anything Goes” kicked off Lambuth’s 1983-84 theater season. Written in 1935, it is the tale of two couples aboard an ocean liner, along with gangsters, molls, and a proper Englishment. Cole Porter’s hummable score includes “I Get a Kick Out of You,” the title song, “Let’s Misbehave” and “Blow, Gabriel, Blow.”

Jesse Byrum directed the production, with Pat Brown and Gaylon Colbert as choreographers. Mrs. Ruth Mulroy served as music director, with accompaniment on piano by Dr. Jo Fleming, professor of music, and Betty Lewis Sheppard, Jackson pianist.

Anne Burnette and Troy Ylitalo are united as Hope and Billy.

Black Student Union Sponsors Talent Pageant

Using as its theme, "Look At Me Now," the Black Student Union sponsored a talent pageant last January in the Colonial Room of the College Union.

Claire Ford of Memphis, who was Miss Black America of 1977 and Miss Black Memphis of 1976, narrated the pageant. Anthony Harris, Black Student Union President and pageant chairman, stressed that this was the first time a talent pageant sponsored by the BSU had been held at Lambuth.

Forda Bond was named Lambuth's Miss Black Student Union. Forda, a biology major, enjoys traveling, modeling, swimming, and dancing. First runner-up was freshman Angela Ward. Second runner-up was Anita Kennedy, a sophomore. Other contestants were Nina Rhodes, Felecia Freeman, and Djuna Alexander.

Miss Bond will represent the BSU in various college activities this year, namely, the Miss Lambuth Pageant to be held in late February.

The Student Government Association of Lambuth College offers students the experience of self-government as well as an opportunity to participate in various activities throughout the year. It encourages the dorm councils to participate more actively in the self-government of the dorms themselves. The 1983-1984 school year was the first year that the dorm councils were able to bring action against dorm residents who violated certain rules. It was also the first year in which the Student Government Association took a more active role in encouraging other campus groups to take part in governing the student body.

In addition, this year's members worked hard to revise the constitution of Omicron Phi Tau. The Lambuth chapter of the National French Honor Society, Pi Delta Phi, continued to recognize excellence in the study of French language and literature. Also, Phi Alpha Theta, a group based on excellence in the study of history, encouraged research and exchange of thought in history through field trips, such as outings to Shiloh Military Park and to Memphis to see Egyptian artifacts, and through various speakers.

Black Student Union Has a Successful Year

The 1983-84 year was one of varied activities for members of the Black Student Union. A BSU sponsored talent show and fashion show started the year off with tremendous impact. After winning the pumpkin-carving contest at Halloween, BSU members and others dressed up for a Halloween Costume dance. Later in the year, the Union also sponsored a Before-Exam Jam for a final fling before exam week. The highlight of the busy year was the Miss BSU Pageant, emceed by Claire Ford, Miss Black America 1977.

Campus Congregation Serves Campus Needs

With the help of Ed and Sara Phillips, ministers to the college, the Campus Congregation plans worship services for Lambuth students. In addition, student committees, elected by the Campus Congregation plan special activities such as cookouts, hayrides, and weekly communion services.

The Campus Clown Ministry, formerly sponsored by the Campus Congregation, provides a unique worship experience. The clown can be traced to the medieval church in the case of the court jester or "holy fool", who called attention to specific parts of scripture. Clowns, by tradition, do not speak but use mime instead. Currently, the use of clowns in worship is regaining its original medieval appeal. The Campus Clown Ministry helps us laugh at ourselves and accept others regardless of their faults.

Coffeehouse Papers and the Vision Spark Creativity

The Coffeehouse Papers, edited by Anne Bugel, provided an outlet for the creative talents of students and faculty. Published twice a year, the papers included in its pages short stories, plays, poetry, and pen-and-ink drawings.

The Vision under the supervision of editor Jackie Lucas, continued to provide a forum for student information and expression. In addition to the regular columns, The Vision, which is published monthly, featured articles by school officials, faculty and students expressing views on various campus issues.

Lantern Takes a Closer Look

Using as its theme "Take a Closer Look", the 1983-84 Lantern staff attempted to capture in pictures and text the various facets of the Lambuth experience. The year started with excitement as plans for the new yearbook began to unfold. Organization was the keynote of the moment as staff assignments were made. The highlight of the preliminary planning was Janet's trip to Dallas, Texas, home of our printer, Taylor Publishing Company. There Janet spent hours with the art consultant making specific plans for the overall design of the 1983-84 yearbook. Upon Janet's return, the staff wholeheartedly applied itself to the task at hand. With the opening of school in the fall, the staff's sustained interest ensured another successful yearbook.

Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope

Enhance Public Relations for Lambuth College

The Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope, with approximately forty appearances each year, provide for its members the opportunity for experience in performance. In addition, these performing groups have become a recruiting tool for the admissions office through performances at High School Day. The two groups attract various types of audiences through the different concerts each group presents. For example, Kaleidoscope sings throughout the year at clubs, churches, and schools. One highlight of the year is the annual Madrigal Feaste. The Jazz Band performs a variety of "Big Band" music in jazz and popular styles at ball games, high school assemblies, and other Lambuth functions. Not only does the Jazz Band and Kaleidoscope support the talented with an outlet to perform but they also serve as entertainment for the community.

Panhellenic and Intrafraternity Councils

The Panhellenic and Intrafraternity Councils are groups whose central function is to set the goals and standards of Greek life at Lambuth. Through cooperation and interdependence these two groups work to provide a healthy social and academic atmosphere.

Special activities of the Panhellenic and Intrafraternity Councils in 1983-84 included Greek Rush and Campus All-Sing to raise money for a selected charity, and the "Student Bodies", a calendar of the best-looking men on campus, produced by the Panhellenic Council.

Lynn Shaw, 1982-83 Panhellenic president, installs this year's Panhellenic Officers: Sherri Parlow, treasurer; Robbin Lau, secretary; Karaleigh Hunt, vice-president; and Anne Burnette, president.

Alpha Xi Delta Completes Its 26th Year

Christmas is a time for togetherness as these Alpha Xi's reveal.

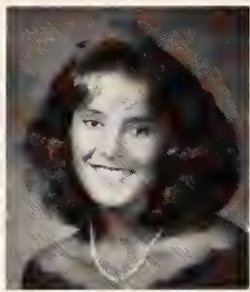

The Alpha Xi Delta "family" poses at its winter pledge formal.

Times spent with sisters are fun times.

Gamma Iota Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta began its twenty-sixth year on the Lambuth campus with a redecorated room, lots of Xi love, and great plans for the year. Members were involved in various aspects of campus life, from school publications to national honor societies, and school sports. The first pledge formal, Halloween and Christmas parties were just a few of the fall activities. Graduating seniors were honored at a spring banquet. Several fund raisers were held for the sorority's national philanthropy, the American Lung Association.

Phi Mu Fraternity Plays an Active Role

Phi Mus gather at their favorite haunt.

The Kappa Nu Chapter of PHI MU FRATERNITY experienced a rewarding 1983-84 year. After working hard for a successful fall rush, chapter members involved themselves in numerous campus activities. The chapter received special recognition this year for its homecoming float and the completion of its one thousand dollar pledge to Lambuth's Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign. Also, throughout the year Kappa Nu continued to support its philanthropies — Youthtown of Jackson and Project Hope — by various projects such as parties, a dance, and fund-raising campaigns.

At the homecoming luncheon Judy French, president, proudly announces the fraternity's completion of its pledge.

Sigma Kappa Makes Quota in Rush

Sigma Kappa Sorority began the '83 school year with a very successful rush, having picked up quota. Afterwards, the members had a swim party for their new pledges. The ladies supported their philanthropy, gerontology, with visits to nursing homes. Other events during the year included dorm bake sales, a February chili supper, the annual Christmas bazaar, and a raffle.

Kappa Alpha Contributes to Campus Life

Kappa Alpha Order had a banner year of success and achievement. During rush, the KAs gained sixteen new members. Later the organization sponsored two Muscular Dystrophy projects which proved to be highly successful. In October the first Kappa Alpha Mud Bowl Classic was held at the Old Country Store featuring the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity from Union University. Once again Kappa Alpha continued its tradition of campus leadership by placing five members in executive positions of the Student Government Association, including vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

KAs are just having some good, clean fun at the mud football game against the SAEs of Union.

Kappa Sigma Stays Busy Throughout Year

Friends take time out for a study break with a game of Scrabble.

Clay and Rachel, you better be careful or we'll tell the Dean!

Kappa Sigma Fraternity began the 1983-84 school year with an excellent rush, pledging ten new men. In the course of the year the Kappa Sigs captured the flagball championship. The fraternity continued its tradition of hosting several all-campus parties, funding the programs for the Lambuth Eagles' home basketball games, and supporting all Lambuth athletic events. Kappa Sigma performed well for Lambuth and thus maintained the national image for which all Kappa Sigma chapters strive.

Stardusters smile prettily in the chapter house.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Excels in Campus Life

Sigma Phi Epsilon continued to excel in all areas of campus life. Highlights included hosting all-campus parties, Sunday dinners and capturing the volleyball championship for the 1983-84 school year. Also, a number of the members held various campuswide leadership roles. With eight new members pledging during rush, Sigma Phi Epsilon became the second largest men's Greek organization on campus.

The three top officers of the fraternity, Arthur Wheeler, Randy McCallon, and Neil Sharpe, are revealed at the Valentine's Dance.

“I Feel Pretty” Serves as Theme of Miss Lambuth Pageant

Rayla Bridges is starry-eyed after being crowned Miss Lambuth.

The words “I Feel Pretty” have never rung so true as for the theme of the 1983 Miss Lambuth Pageant held February 27, 1983. Miss Tennessee, Desiree Daniels, the mistress of ceremonies for the evening, greeted the large crowd gathered in the Tigrett Jr. High School auditorium to watch the contest. Damon Williams, an alumnus of Lambuth, and Tyrone Herndon of Opryland, U.S.A., also entertained. The real stars of the show, however, were the seventeen lovely and talented contestants.

During the pageant, the participants were judged in four categories: individual interviews, talent, evening gown, and swimsuit. For her talent, the new Miss Lambuth, Rayla Bridges, sang “You’re the Best.” A freshman music and speech and drama major from Paducah, Kentucky, Rayla won a scholarship with the crown. Because the Miss Lambuth Pageant is a preliminary competition for the Miss America Pageant, Rayla will compete for the title of Miss Tennessee. Other finalists in the pageant were Kristen Climer, first runner-up; Julie Caldwell, second runner-up; Sally Doyle, third runner-up; and Ede Harrison, fourth runner-up.

Special Awards Mark Homecoming Activities

Several awards were presented during Lambuth's homecoming festivities. Besides Homecoming Queen, who this year was Jan Forsythe, awards for participation in the parade, banner contest, and spirit competition were announced at the men's game. First prize for the float, based on originality, creativity, amount of work, and enthusiasm, went to Phi Mu. The banner contest, awarded to the most creative, tasteful, and school-spirited banner, went to Alpha Omicron Pi. The Spirit award winner for participation in all events and enthusiasm was Kappa Alpha.

Lambuth presented another very special award at Homecoming. The Luther L. Gobbel Award for Outstanding Faculty Member was given at the Lambuth College Alumni Association luncheon to Dr. Robert Carlton. Nominated by students, faculty, and administrators, the professor of Biology was chosen because he exemplifies "a deep and sincere commitment to the service of Lambuth College and to quality, Christian education", college officials stated.
